- Traffic laws
- Vehicle operation
- Road signs and signals

- Defensive driving

The number of questions on the exam and the time limit will vary depending on the state in which you're taking the test. However, most exams will have between 25 and 50 questions and will give you about an hour to complete the test.

How to Prepare for the DMV Written Exam

The best way to prepare for the DMV written exam is to study the official driver's manual for your state. The manual will contain all of the information that you need to know to pass the exam.

In addition to studying the manual, you can also take practice tests online or in a book. Practice tests will help you to get familiar with the format of the exam and to identify any areas where you need more study.

Sample DMV Written Exam Questions

To give you a better idea of what to expect on the DMV written exam, here are a few sample questions:

- What does a yellow traffic light mean?
- What is the legal blood alcohol concentration (BAC) limit for drivers under the age of 21?
- What should you do if you are driving in fog?
- What is the speed limit on a residential street?
- What does the "Do Not Enter" sign mean?

Tips for Answering DMV Written Exam Questions

Here are a few tips for answering DMV written exam questions:

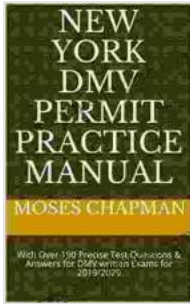

- Read the question carefully and make sure you understand what it is asking.
- Eliminate any answers that you know are incorrect.
- Guess if you have to, but only if you have eliminated at least two of the answer choices.
- Don't spend too much time on any one question. If you're stuck, move on to the next question and come back to it later.
- Check your answers carefully before submitting the test.

By following these tips, you can increase your chances of passing the DMV written exam on your first try. So what are you waiting for? Start studying today!
